August Trivia

August was named in honor of Augustus Caesar. It has 31 days because Augustus wanted as many days as Julius Caesar's month of July had!

Zodiac signs: Leo & Virgo

Birthstone: Peridot

Flower: Gladiolus

Quote of the Day

You are never too old to set another goal or to dream a new dream..

- C.S. Lewis

August Trivia:

The First IBM Personal Computer was released on August 12, 1981, revolutionizing how we interact with technology.

The Panama Canal officially opened on August 15, 1914, drastically shortening maritime travel between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

Lucille Ball, one of America's most beloved comedians and stars of I Love Lucy, was born on August 6, 1911.

Leo (July 22 -August 21)

Lovable Leos are famously known for their exuberance, loyalty and self-confidence.

Virgo (Aug 22 – Sep 22)

Virgos are logical, practical, and systematic in their approach to life. They are perfectionists at heart.

August in History: Penicillin's Mass Production Begins

In August 1943, penicillin—the antibiotic that would go on to save millions of lives—began mass production for use in World War II. Though discovered earlier by Alexander Fleming, it wasn't until the early 1940s that scientists learned to produce it on a large scale. This life-saving antibiotic went on to change the course of healthcare and save countless lives.

On June 6, 1933, eager motorists park their automobiles on the grounds of Camden Drive-In, the first ever drive-in movie theater located on Admiral Wilson Boulevard in Pennsauken, New Jersey.

Park-In Theaters– the term “drive-in” came to be widely used only later–was the brainchild of Richard Hollingshead, a movie fan and a sales manager at his father’s company, Whiz Auto Products, in Camden. Reportedly inspired by his mother’s struggle to sit comfortably in traditional movie theater seats, Hollingshead came up with the idea of an open-air theater where patrons watched movies in the comfort of their own automobiles.

He experimented in the driveway of his own house with different projection and sound techniques, mounting a 1928 Kodak projector on the hood of his car, pinning a screen to some trees, and placing a radio behind the screen for sound. He also tested ways to guard against rain and other inclement weather, and devised the ideal spacing arrangement for a number of cars so that all would have a view of the screen.

The young entrepreneur received a patent for the concept in May of 1933 and opened Park-In Theaters, Inc. less than a month later, with an initial investment of $30,000. Advertising it as entertainment for the whole family, Hollingshead charged 25 cents per car and 25 cents per person, with no group paying more than one dollar. The idea caught on, and after Hollingshead’s patent was overturned in 1949, drive in theaters began popping up all over the country. One of the largest was the All-Weather Drive-In of Copiague, New York, which featured parking space for 2,500 cars, a kids playground and a full service restaurant, all on a 28 acre lot.

The popularity of the drive-in spiked after World War II and reached its heyday in the late 1950s to mid-60s, with some 5,000 theaters across the country. Drive-ins became an icon of American culture, and a typical weekend destination not just for parents and children but also for teenage couples seeking some privacy. Today fewer than 500 drive-in theaters survive in the United States.

A Poem to Share

A Psalm of Life (Excerpt)

By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
“Life is but an empty dream!”
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal;
Dust thou art, to dust returnest,
Was not spoken of the soul.

Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.
Through years that pass and memories stay,
In love's pure light, we find our way.
A dog's love is a timeless song,
A faithful heart, where we belong.

Laughing Matters

Sherlock & Watson Go Camping

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson went camping.

They pitched their tent under the stars and went to sleep.

Sometime in the middle of the night, Holmes woke Watson up and said: "Watson, look up at the stars and tell me what you see."

Watson replied: "I see millions and millions of stars."

Holmes said: "And what do you deduce from that?"

Watson replied: "Astronomically, it tells me there are millions of galaxies and potentially billions of planets. Astrologically, it tells me that Saturn is in Leo. Theologically, it tells me that God is great and we are small and insignificant. Horologically, it tells me that it's about 3 AM. Meteorologically, it tells me that we will have a beautiful day tomorrow. What does it tell you, Holmes?"

Holmes said: "It tells me that somebody stole our tent."
